

The alchemist

A little shepherd boy who had a same dream twice It's not about a toy but an omen from the Christ

Chasing his dream fearlessly for he knew the search of the dream would lead to the heaven eternally just like a lively, non-stopping stream

He knew the language of wind and desert because the secret from the alchemist lead All he wanted was not a dessert but simply a girl always in his head

Little shepherd dream chaser had treasures mentioned by omen as a gain and did not been a dreamer loser
The journey ended with the wind blew again

Life is really generous to people who pursue their destiny from day to night Believing our future as hopes ripple Chase our dreams as a knight
