

Dreams,
Everyone has his or her own dreams,
No matter how old you are
No matter how lonely you are
You still have your unique dreams

How do you describe dreams?
Avoider? Unstructured? Resistant?
Whatever you describe them
You can make them come real

Creative dreams
Are resilient,
For always
They wait for you continuously
They glow in the dark eternally

'I don't have any dreams.' Some would say
Who ever says he or she has no dreams
Simply doesn't know where to find dreams
Dreams wait for you
But you have the responsibility to find it

Recognize dreams
And make your dreams come true

Dreams are easily interrupted by any bad situations
It's true that dreams are difficult to come true
But you can due with it
With steal of forge and Steal of will.

Set up your creative dreams right now
And try your very best to Make it real!
